

Lies

Béatrice Nicodème

280 pages

Publication date : April, 2008

The deadly confrontation between two men and their lies

Fifty years old Jacques Valette is a renowned surgeon who undertakes the writing of his memoirs. The only shadow in his fine life: his loneliness ever since his wife Jeanne has left him.

But that night changes everything. The brilliant surgeon finds himself being in pajamas, bound hand and foot, and humiliated in his own house. Facing him is a man whose face is hidden under a mask of a jackal. The intruder hums Ravel, takes hold of his money before throwing it into the fireplace and plays with his nerves. This obviously has nothing to do with an ordinary burglary. The strange individual knows him too well, even the secrets he had astutely forgotten...

This confrontation between the famous surgeon and his torturer will last one night. Which one of them will turn out victorious? The dead one or the one who will survive?

Beatrice Nicodeme has published numerous thrillers and historical novels among which The Secret of Sir Adrian F (Timee-Editions, 2007)

A psychological thriller, "Lies" depicts a brilliant surgeon toward the end of his career, a man who arises from his childhood, and Jeanne, spouse of the former, and mistress of the latter.

A fascinating impoundment that will change the course of their lives.

Timée Editions